

Sweetest Suites

Life is suite in the Sun.Sea.Strip Story by CHRIS GARDNER

Platinum Hotel & Spa

Nobody (aside, maybe, from the odd fraternity brother) likes to sleep where they party. Want a good night's rest after nonstop Sin City debauchery? The non-gaming Platinum's eight two-bedroom Marquis suites are a great bet – no pun intended. (No walking through a noisy casino on your way to bed!)

During your stay, lounge in a six-jet whirlpool bath, or relax to the tune of your suite's Bose sound system and its 42-inch wall-mounted plasma-screen HDTV. Take advantage of the suite's full kitchen with stainless-steel appliances and granite countertops, perfect for cooking a fire-side meal. Or, eat on your terrace overlooking sweeping views of the Strip.

Venture down to the fifth-floor pool for some steaming Vegas sun; the indoor/outdoor pool offers cabanas and fire pits with food service from the PT78 Restaurant (PT78 is the chemical formula for platinum). Then head over to the WELL Spa, which offers traditional services like massages and pedicures to guests of the 225-room hotel at 25 percent off. (Couples shouldn't pass up the "mud paint" treatment.)

Looks like platinum is the new gold.
